Philosophy

Ferndown Middle School is committed to maximising attendance for all pupils to enable them to benefit fully from their education. We believe that regular attendance is vital for effective learning.

Our school will give a high priority to conveying to parents and pupils the importance of regular and punctual attendance. We recognise the importance of establishing strong home- school links and communication systems that can be utilised whenever there is a concern about attendance.

We will identify and address, as quickly as possible, any problems affecting attendance and adopt, at times, a clearly focused approach aimed at returning the pupil to full attendance.

Principles

The school will work to ensure that all pupils feel supported and valued. It will promote positive staff attitudes to those pupils returning from absences.

Staff will be made aware of the registration process and receive in service training on registration regulations and education law. Registers will be completed accurately at the beginning of the morning and afternoon sessions.

Parents will be encouraged to contact the school on the first day of the child's absence.

Attendance procedures will be regularly evaluated by the leadership team and the governors.

Procedures will allow returned absentees to catch up on missed work without disrupting the learning of other pupils in the class (if appropriate).

Consultation will take place with staff and the relevant outside agencies to develop and maintain the school attendance policy.

Rights and responsibilities

Improving the attendance at Ferndown Middle School is the responsibility of everyone in the school community: pupils, parents and school staff.

Pupils are expected to attend school and lessons regularly and punctually. Pupils who do experience difficulties attending school will be offered support.

Parents are responsible for ensuring their child attends school regularly and punctually, properly dressed and in a fit condition to learn.

“Parents are responsible for making sure that their children of compulsory school age receive a suitable full-time education. This can be by regular attendance at school, at alternative provision, or otherwise (e.g. the parent can choose to educate their child at home).” DfE 2015

Procedure

If a child is prevented for any reason from attending, or is late, parents are required to notify the school of a reason, preferably on the first day of absence. Any parent, whose first language is not English or has literacy problems, will be offered support in matters of communication. When a child is not at school it is considered a safeguarding matter and this is why it is vital we receive an explanation of absence.

If a child does not arrive at school and we have no explanation, the receptionist or Pastoral officer will contact parent/ carer.

A pupil's absence from school will remain unauthorised until a satisfactory explanation is given by a parent. If a child's attendance falls below 90%, the school may require proof of absence, for example, a letter from a hospital confirming that the child is to attend a medical appointment.

Parents will be informed promptly of any concerns regarding their child's attendance.

- Green – letter of concern about lateness or attendance
- Amber – a request to attend a meeting with the Pastoral Officer.
- Red – a request for a meeting with the 'Attendance Support Officer' who works for Dorset Country Council. This may result in a penalty notice.

“All schools must inform the local authority of any pupil who fails to attend school regularly, or has been absent without the school’s permission for a continuous period of 10 school days or more, at such intervals as are agreed between the school and the local authority” DfE 2015

There are two types of absence:

Authorised and Unauthorised

We will not authorise:

- Persistent lateness (after 8.45am) or truancy
- Caring for brothers and sisters or appointments for other members of the family.
- Going shopping.
- Transport difficulties.
- Long weekends or holidays.
- Any absence which the school has not been informed about
- Any absence which the headteacher does not deem to be for a genuine reason.

The head teacher has the discretion to authorise:

- Absence because of illness
- Absence because of receiving treatment (May require medical evidence)
- Absence for educational purposes.
- Absence for other specific circumstance (e.g. family bereavement, approved public performance)
- Absence for days of religious observance. Absence for annual family holiday, up to 10 days, if there are exceptional circumstances. (Defining exceptional circumstance: The absence is rare and unavoidable; the event could not be reasonably scheduled for another time)

School staff will encourage good attendance and punctuality through personal example. Staff should convey high expectations to pupils regarding attendance and punctuality. Staff will promptly investigate all absenteeism, liaising closely with parents. Staff will respond to all absenteeism firmly and consistently.

Registration

Registers will be called promptly at 8.45 a.m. and 1.20 p.m.

Registers will officially close at 9.10 a.m. (i.e. at the beginning of the first lesson of the morning) and 1.30 p.m. (i.e. at the beginning of the first lesson in the afternoon).

Where pupils arrive late and the register is still open, they will be marked late but counted as present for the session. Where pupils miss registration and do not provide an adequate explanation, they will be marked as late but counted as unauthorised absent. Where pupils miss registration but provide an acceptable explanation - e.g. medical/dental appointments - they will be marked as absent but as authorised absent for that session.

Lateness

Lateness is actively discouraged and challenged immediately when it arises.

Pupils are expected to be in the classrooms at 8.45 when the register is called. If a pupil is not there for the register, they will receive a break time delay of 5 minutes, to be attended the same day. If the child arrives after 8.45 and the teacher has closed the register, for example, because of assembly, the child must go to the front office and sign in. If you are arriving with your child after 8.45am, children must enter through the school office and sign in.

The school will outline an alternative plan in exceptional cases.

If a child is persistently late, the Pastoral Officer will contact their parents to offer support. Dorset County Council are made aware of any child who is persistently late for school. A letter will be sent if deemed necessary.

Recording Absence

All staff must record absences, either as authorised or unauthorised, using the agreed symbols.

Absences will be totalled by the Pastoral Officer monthly and then forwarded to the Teaching and Learning Managers.

Monthly print outs for Teaching and Learning Managers for their year group will be provided. The Teaching and Learning Managers will discuss the absences with the form tutor and Pastoral Officer.

Consistent criteria should be applied to decision making. If the headteacher have reasons to doubt the explanation offered about whether a particular absence is genuine, the absence should be recorded as unauthorised. The school will not authorise absences when a child has attendance that is below 90% without medical proof. Parents/ carers will be notified by letter when this proof is required. Absences should not be authorised once a warning letter for court action has been issued to parents by the Education Welfare Service, unless a medical certificate is received. If in doubt the Head teacher will seek advice from the Local Authority.

Annual Holidays Taken During Term Time

Under the guidance from the DFE the school will not grant family holiday during school term time. The school can grant time off during term time for exceptional circumstances. These circumstances include a close family wedding, bereavement, serious illness in the immediate family. The list is not exhaustive and the Head teacher makes the final decision. Parents have to write to the Head teacher to request time off during term time.

Penalty notices for holidays during term time

Holidays during term time will not be authorised by the school. If your child is removed from school for the purpose of a holiday, a penalty notice will be considered.

“The authorised person may issue a Penalty Notice without first issuing a formal warning to the parent as would otherwise be required. However s/he should still be satisfied that the parent was informed beforehand that, in some circumstances e.g. term time holiday, unauthorised absence could lead to a Penalty Notice being issued without further warning.”

The Head teacher will consider each request individually.

Unauthorised Absence

Action of irregular attendance will initially involve the Pastoral Officer, the pupil's head of year and the school receptionist. Parents of all pupils whose attendance falls below 90% (which is unauthorised) will be asked to attend a meeting with the Pastoral Officer. The aim of this meeting will be to identify and resolve any difficulties preventing the pupil from attending school. Here the parents will be made aware of the legal requirements for their children to attend school.

“If a child of compulsory school age fails to attend regularly at a school at which they are registered, or at a place where alternative provision is provided for them, the parents may be guilty of an offence and can be prosecuted by the local authority.” DfE 2015

If the pupil's difficulties are not resolved and the attendance doesn't improve, a formal conversation will be held with the Attendance Support Officer who works for Dorset County Council where the next course of action will be discussed.

Reviews and Strategies

Part of the evaluation process will be to consider what interventions, as listed below, have been successful.

- The school receptionist telephoning parents on the first day of absence;
- Careful monitoring by the pastoral officer, the TLM and the Head teacher
- Statistics produced from SIMS Attendance software each month.
- Inter-agency referrals to the Locality team if attendance is below 90%.
- Attendance discussed as an agenda item at least once every half term at the TLM meeting.

- TLMs inform their Year team of individual pupil concerns.
- The Headteacher and the Pastoral Officer will monitor attendance half termly and identify by year group pupils with attendance below 90%. Letters will be sent home in the first instance, followed up by a meeting if no improvement.
- Targets are set annually with the L.A. via the SEP programme.

Children Missing in Education

If a child is believed to be missing in education then a completed form will be sent to Children's Services. The reasons why we may use this referral system are:

- The parent has informed the school that the child is leaving and the new intake school has not requested the files.
- The child has not attended the school for 2 weeks and there has not been any contact from the parent/guardian.

Ferndown Middle School has a programme of Safeguarding training that includes whole staff workshops on subjects that could affect a child's attendance, including radicalisation and FGM.

“All children, regardless of their circumstances, are entitled to a full time education which is suitable to their age, ability, aptitude and any special educational needs they may have. Local authorities have a duty to establish, as far as it is possible to do so, the identity of children of compulsory school age who are missing education in their area.” DfE 2015
